NEWSBAKE OCTOBER 2014

Dear Member,

Welcome to the October edition of "NewsBake", the official newsletter of the Baking Association of Australia.

This month the major issue facing our industry is the Supermarket Chains announcing their 85c Bread campaign. The BAA wishes to assure all members that we are currently addressing this issue, with the urgency that it deserves.

An emergency Board Meeting was called to create an action plan for this issue. Tony has since been ensuring that the above issue has been receiving both national and international attention, through various media and press outlets, and Anton has already held meetings with ministers in Canberra to express our concerns as an industry. Please be assured that we will continue to work on this issue, and will keep our members informed with our progress.

In the meanwhile, happy baking - and remember.... We are here to help our members make the best of their baking business!

Many bakeries still have not put into place bullying policies or standards. We remind you it is now compulsory to have a bullying policy in place under the FWA act. Some bakeries have already been visited by FWA officials. Anton Duc can assist with this service and it's all part of your membership, otherwise visit the members portal to download policy drafts.
